TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

New YORK, Feb. 10, 1853.

In yours of this date, I see mentioned under the head of "Marine Affairs," that the Arabia brought out 1,050 tons of cargo, being 160 tons more than the Atlantic. The largest cargo landed from any Cunard steamer, was from the Africa this last time, as stated to me by Capt. Harrison, viz. that he had but 900 tons, all told, and had 239 mere packages than was brought by the Arabia; so that the Arabia, instead of bringing 1,000 tons of freight, did not have testions, taking her cabins, aloons, &c to stow it in, while the Atlantic has brought 575 tons of cargo in her cargo room, without taking any part of her cabins, besides COO—parcels, and brought coal enough without stopping at Halifax. If you think the above worth incerting, that the public may know the truth, you can do so.

EROADWAY RAILROAD.

BROADWAY RAILROAD.

Broadway Railroad.—In the Proceedings had been the Superior Court, published in the Herald of the Zlat of January last, in the case of Thomas E. Ilavis and Courthand Palmer, against the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonsity of the City of New York, in relation to the Bandway Railroad, among other documents read on behalf of the grantees of that road, was a letter of mine, written on the 7th March, 1850—nearly three years since—addressed to Messrs. Pettigrew and Sherman, giving an opinion in favor of the construction of a rail-track in the Sixth avenue. I am not vain enough to suppose that my views in regard to city railroads, or upon any other subject, are of much consequence in this community; but I would prefer that they should not be misrepresented. I have never, that I remember, written a line in favor of laying a rail track in Broadway, and have constantly and repeatedly refused to sign any paper, or petition in favor of it. Had the whole of my letter been used and published, this explanation would not have been required; but by the adroit suppression of a material part of it, it is made to do duty in a cause never contemplated, and which originated long subsequent to its date. After the words, "carted consideration," about the middle of the letter, add these omitted words—it strikes me, however, that there should be steps immediately taken to put one in the Sixth avenue, and that the Hudaon River Compary should be required fo take up their rails above canal street, and re-lay them through the Nieth avenue and Hudson street. These two propositions carried into effect, with the railroad already in the Fourth avenue, no inhabitant of the city, between the Second and Eleventia venues, will be required to walk more than two thousand feet to find a rail car to convey him to the business part of the city." It will be seen that this embraces what was thought to be suificient railroad accommodation in the city, and that Broadway is not included in it, nor even removely alluded to. NICHOLAS DEAN.
